SCHOOL REPORT.

To the School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Falmouth:—

I submit for your consideration and approval the following annual report.

Whole number of scholars in town April 1st 1912,	438
Whole number attending our common schools,	250
Average number attending our common schools,	219
Whole number attending high schools,	41
Length of school in weeks,	33
Number of different teachers employed during the year,	19
Average wages of female teachers,	$8 80

In submitting this report, giving you the condition of our schools for the past year, I feel that I am placing before you an unbiased outline of the conditions as they exist at the present time. We have been assured from time to time during the year that the interest in our public school system is on the increase. Parents have freely expressed their approval of the work that is being done and but few criticisms have been made, thereby inspiring the teachers to greater effort in behalf of their pupils.

School administration is a somewhat complex proposition. Just how to contribute to the general welfare of all our schools, to keep in perfect balance the material and the spiritual, is a work which requires the co-operation of all. It is not the one room in which our children work, nor the one course of study which they pursue, nor the uniform textbooks which they use, but rather the high aim which actuates teacher and pupils, that raises the standard of our public schools.

Each school is a little community consisting of teacher and scholars who are living together a conscious, purposeful life whose ideals, morale, and occupations are all tending to lift it to a higher level. Therefore in planning and conducting the administration of a school we cannot always look for immediate results but must wait future developments.

The work done has been of a high order. Special mention should be made of the amount and character of the work in arithmetic begun so successfully last year. A large amount of oral drill, as well as clear and concise explanations of the board work are required in all our schools. The work in geography, grammar, history and physiology has also been taken up in a way that has been an incentive to thorough, not easily forgotten work.

Spelling seems to be the one study that is not quite what we would have it, but efforts are being made to increase the efficiency in this art. The work done in drawing is highly satisfactory.

The attendance has been exceptionally good until the winter term. Owing to severe colds the attendance has been lowered.

TEACHERS.

Very few changes have been made in our teaching force. At the opening of the fall term we selected a list of teachers who have proved faithful, efficient and conscientious in all they have attempted. The younger teachers employed for our smaller schools, (several of them our own residents,) have done excellent work. They have kept up the interest and rapid progress has been made. With one exception the teachers have worked in perfect harmony with the superintendent carrying out cheerfully each suggestion made.

The method pursued by our teachers for disciplining their schools is working out a perplexing problem that is giving universal satisfaction.

They are bringing into play the motor activities. You enter our best schools today and you will find every scholar busy; one group is found standing at the blackboard solving problems, another at their desk writing a language lesson or painting or using cardboard or other constructive material, while the teacher controls and guides it all—such a school, many of which may be found in our town—is a beautiful, inspiring spectacle.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The new course of study, which we are following carefully has proved to be one that can be used in our rural schools successfully.

They are as well graded as it is possible to grade them. It is not always that the pupils should be the only learners in the room; the teacher should be a learner also; with a course of study preparation for each days work must be made.

TEXT BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

The usual number of text books have been purchased. The books are in fairly good condition, and the new ones added to those already in use have been such as were required for classes that were promoted at the commencement of the school year and books to supplement our basal texts.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Necessary repairs have been made on our school buildings. No. 4 has been thoroughly repaired, with the exception of the entries, and it is now a pleasant, tidy little room well cared for by the teacher and pupils who take much pride in making it homelike and attractive. The new closets needed at No. 7 have been built. The lot recently purchased for No. 6 has been fenced. Nearly all the buildings were thoroughly cleaned.

GRADUATION.

Our second graduation was held at the First Parish church June 14th, 1912. A class of twenty four successfully passed the examination, seventeen of whom passed the State examination and fourteen entered high school. Of that number all but one are continuing the course and doing well. The following program was given.

IN GENERAL.

March 1st, 1912 an exhibit of the work done in our schools was given at the schoolroom at No. 3. A similar exhibit was given at No. 7 the preceding day. Samples of the test and composition papers and papers covered by the daily work of the pupils in all the grades, also drawing—including map drawing—in water colors and crayons, the work done in manual training and domestic science which has been so promisingly begun in most of our schools was on exhibition and highly appreciated by the large number of parents present. An interesting program was also carried out, given by the pupils of the different schools represented, A similar exhibit will be prepared for the first week in May, thus giving the parents an opportunity to see what our children have been accomplishing the past year.

“Rally Day” was held at the No. 3 schoolroom Nov. 27th and at No. 7, Dec. 5th. Class exercises conducted by the different teachers, and an interesting program was the entertainment provided. These have proved helpful days, especially to our teachers, as it is inconvenient for us to hold teachers meetings owing to the long distances between our schools, and occasions of this kind bring our teachers together for a day.

Onward and Upward is our motto, and we hope to raise the standard of our schools still higher the coming year. Parents, continue to give us your cordial support and our ambitions in this, the most important interest of our town, will be fully realized.

Thanking the committee, the parents and the pupils for their cordial support the past year I respectfully submit this report for your consideration.
